PAPHIAKOS & CCP ANIMAL WELFARE CYPRUS

The organisation was founded in 1982, to provide shelter for stray cats and dogs it was known then as “Cyprus Cat Protection (CCP) and Animal Welfare”.

In 1994 it became “Paphiakos & CCP Animal Welfare” a registered charity No.1529 entrusted with promoting the aims of the Cyprus Government for improving animal welfare throughout the island.

It has grown extensively since the early days and now provides many services including an Information Centre, Veterinary Clinic to the public, providing a microchipping service, free Rescue and 24 hours Emergency Service to the public, Shelter, Boarding, Re-homing, Import/Export Service and education programmes for schools and the general public.

Paphiakos presently has 16,100 animals registered on its microchip database.

In addition to our own microchip service, we also maintain a central database for any vet in Cyprus implanting microchips and for pet owners that have relocated, to re-register their pet's details.

Christmas Eve, Happy Ending Eventually !

On Christmas Eve an adult male golden Labrador was brought into our rescue Centre as it was found wandering around a local village. The well nourished dog was obviously someone's pet and although wearing a collar had no name tag.

When scanned, the dog had a microchip with a number originating from the UK. Unfortunately the owner had not re-registered the microchip with us, so reuniting him with his owner took far longer. Fortunately, the owner came to the rescue centre searching for his dog and found him anxiously waiting!

This episode could have been less stressful for pet and owner if the microchip had been re-registered with us.

A Happy New Year to one lucky Cat !

A cat was brought into the rescue centre New Years Eve, she had been living in someone's garden for 1 week. Fortunately this cat had been microchipped with the details recorded on the Paphiakos database, so within 1 hour it was reunited with its owner. The owner had been searching for over 3 weeks and had given up on all hope of finding her beloved cat again!
